[redacted] Jay Sourwine, Senate Internal Security Subcommittee staff, telephoned recalling an earlier query they had made concerning one [redacted] I agreed that we had stated approximately a year ago that there was no objection from the Agency if the Subcommittee wished to talk to this man. Sourwine indicated there were further developments in the case which he would like to discuss with me. I told him I would see him in the next day or two.

[redacted] Jay Sourwine telephoned later to inquire if we could make available to the Subcommittee a pamphlet entitled "Five Points on Party Building," authored by one Guillermo Ponce. Apparently this is a publication of the Communist Party of Venezuela published in January 1962. We will check this and advise.

[redacted] Met with Senator Richard B. Russell at the Director's request to brief him on certain matters. See Memo for the Record for details.

[redacted] Returned without written answer a letter dated 13 January from Representative Ken Hechler (D., W. Va.), addressed to John Warner, Legislative Liaison, which enclosed a letter received from [redacted] [redacted], which referred to a clipping of a Pearson column from the PARKERSBURG SENTINEL (the same as the 11 January article printed in the WASHINGTON POST).

Advised Nancy Leverich, in the office of Representative Hechler, of the Senate Armed Services hearing of 13 January and provided her with a copy of the Director's letter to Chairman Richard B. Russell responding to the statement of Senator Eugene J. McCarthy before that hearing. Miss Leverich thanked us on behalf of Representative Hechler and indicated this would be more than adequate for their needs.
